Councillor Niall Kelleher, Chair of the Kerry JPC

The JPC plays a key role in providing strategic linkages between An Garda Síochána, the Local Authority and the community pillar in matters of community policing and safety. It also provides a level of local democratic oversight of the Gardaí's work within the County. I would like to thank the members of the JPC and of the sub-committees for their work in advancing the programme.

I very much welcome this report, which reflects a significant reduction in many of the crimes that cause unease within the community. I would like to complement the Gardaí in Kerry for their work with, and for, our communities.

Moira Murrell, Chief Executive, Kerry County Council

On behalf of Kerry County Council, I would like to congratulate the Gardaí and the Kerry public on whom they rely, for significant successes at reducing crime within our county during 2016. The data shows that Kerry is unarguably one of the safest places to visit and to live.

Through the work of the JPC and the on-the-ground relationships between KCC and AGS, together we strive to make our towns, villages and tourism locations safe for local communities and visitors alike. One area of joint focus is Road Safety and our joint commitment to make our roads safer for all road users is demonstrated in the interagency Road Safety Plan 2016-2020.

Chief Superintendent Tom Myers, An Garda Síochána

I am pleased to report to the JPC and the Kerry public that in most categories we have observed significant reductions in crime in 2016 when compared with previous years.

An Garda Síochána rely heavily on the public's support in preventing and dealing with crime. Our work at the community level underpins a broad spectrum of policing activities.

While in most categories, there are reductions in issues, Road Safety continues to stand out as an area of focus for us and we will continue to enforce and educate and to work with other agencies to make our roads safer, particularly for vulnerable road users

Our work with the members of the Kerry JPC in 2016 has been very positive and we look forward to advancing a 2017 programme with you.

Kerry Joint Policing Committee:

About the JPC

The Joint Policing Committee (JPC) aims to develop greater consultation, cooperation and synergy on policing and crime issues between An Garda Síochána, Local Authorities and elected local representatives and also facilitate the participation of the community and voluntary sectors in this regard.

The function of the JPCs is set out in section 36(2) of the Garda Síochána Act, which states: “The joint policing committee’s function is to serve as a forum for consultations, discussions and recommendations on matters affecting the policing of the local authority’s administrative area, and in particular to:

(a) keep under review

- (i) the levels and patterns of crime, disorder and anti-social behaviour in that area (including the patterns and levels of misuse of alcohol and drugs), and
- (ii) the factors underlying & contributing to the levels of crime, disorder and anti-social behaviour in the area,

(b) advise the local authority concerned and the Garda Síochána on how they might best perform their functions having regard to the need to do everything feasible to improve the safety and quality of life and to prevent crime, disorder and anti-social behaviour within the area,

(c) arrange and host public meetings concerning matters affecting the policing of the local authority’s administrative area,

(d) establish, in consultation with the local Garda superintendent, as the committee considers necessary within specific neighbourhoods of the area, local policing fora to discuss and make recommendations to the committee concerning matters that it is to keep under review under paragraph (a) or on which it is to advise under paragraph (b), in so far as those matters affect their neighbourhoods,

(e) co-ordinate the activities of local policing fora,

(f) A local authority shall, in performing its functions, have regard to the importance of taking steps to prevent crime, disorder and anti-social behaviour within its area of responsibility.

Strategic and Annual Plans:

The Strategic Plan was prepared and published in 2016 in accordance with the JPC guidelines¹ & includes a list of strategic objectives, with links to Actions required to achieve these, the lead and key agencies involved and the outcomes to be populated (by sub committees). The sub-committees advance the actions in the plan and determine the priority of the actions – short/medium and long term.

It should be noted, as per the Guidelines (Code S. 2.7 & 2.8) that the JPC role is to make inputs to Policing plans and Local Authority plans and policies. While its focus is on outcomes, it can only produce advice and recommendations to the agencies, which control resourcing and establish policy (and bye-laws).

1 JPC Guidelines issued by the Ministers of Justice and Environment, Community & Local Govt, August 2014

Revised guidelines for the establishment, operation and strategic focus of the Joint policing committee were published in 2014 and were outlined to the members at their initial meeting.

The role of the Kerry JPC is to serve as a forum for consultations, discussions, and recommendations on matters affecting the policing of the Kerry County Council's administrative area.

The Garda Division of Kerry does not serve the entire County, in that a small area of East Kerry (around Gneeveguila and Rathmore) is part of the Cork West Division.

The Chief Superintendent for Kerry has agreed to liaise with his colleague in Cork West to ensure that JPC matters are effectively communicated and consistent in these parts of the County.

The JPC will hold quarterly meetings is also obliged to hold at least one public meeting a year wherein members of the public can submit advance questions for discussion at the public meeting.

The six year JPC plan must develop a number of priority Objectives which must then be actioned and progress monitored and reported on annually.

Membership of the JPC:

The Joint Policing Committee has been established as a singular JPC for the entire geographic area of the county and comprises 5 Oireachtas Members, 15 elected Council members, 7 members of the Public Participation Network, The Garda Chief Superintendent and one of his Sergeants and the Chief Executive of Kerry County Council and a Director of Services.

Joint Policing Committees Membership

Local authority elected members	Oireachtas elected members	Local authority official	An Garda Síochána	Community
15	5	2	2	7

Any Oireachtas member who is not a member of the committee can attend at any meeting without prior notice. Senior Gardaí and Council officials can be asked to attend meetings of the JPC and of its sub-committees. The press are also invited to meetings of the JPC.

A Public meeting will be held each year (S. 7 of the Guidelines)

There are four sub-committees of the JPC which meet at least once per quarter to advance the Action Plan. Each is chaired by a councillor.

- Crime Data & Information -
- Community Crime Prevention & Response
- Road Safety
- Community Cohesion

Subcommittees also draw on co-opted members outside of the JPC.

There is also a JPC Executive which meets periodically to manage the JPC .

Strategic Themes & Objectives of the Kerry JPC Plan:

Five strategic themes form the basis for Objectives in our JPC Strategic plan. These have been derived and influenced by the following inputs:

- National JPC guidelines
- The Kerry Local Economic & Community Plan
- An Garda Síochána Community Policing model
- Scoping by JPC members in their inaugural meeting

1) Enhance governance structures and dialogue between stakeholders to understand the causes of anti-social behaviour crime, prevent crime, improve crime detections and prosecutions and contribute to improvements to the Quality of Life of the citizens of Kerry.

2) Developing & Understanding crime in the county and its relationship with other economic and social activities.

3) Enhancing the Community role in crime prevention and response.

4) Making our roads safer for all users.

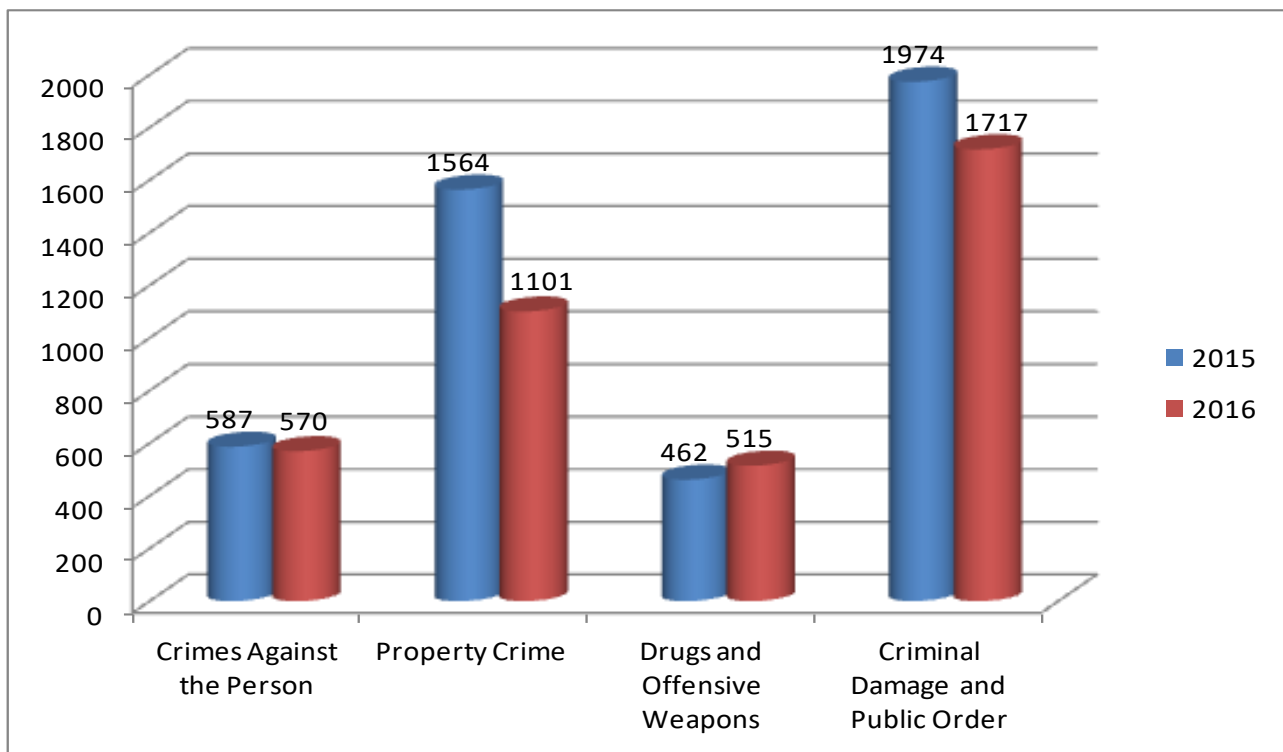

5) Improving community cohesion and reducing anti-social activities.

Key Achievements (Item #2 JPC Guidelines Annual Report)

Item 2 in an Annual Report required by the JPC Guidelines is to list three key successes in the period

Achievement #1:

Development of a Six-Year Strategy, Action Plans and sub-committee structure to advance.

This is the key deliverable to ensure that the JPC remains focussed on longer term strategic goals rather than day-to-day operational policing issues.

Achievement #2:

Garda approval for JPC Data dissemination.

While the process took a number of engagements and clarifications with An Garda Síochána's analyst service and their legal service as well as with third parties such as the Central Statistics Office, in February 2017 we have achieved the required permissions to allow us advance our objectives to publish relevant information and data via the JPC with appropriate garda sign-offs.

This will permit us to map where in the county certain crime or anti-social behaviour is taking place, and in doing so help agencies focus on operational priorities and also provide most members of the public with assurances that their area has low risk from crime.

Achievement # 3

The Road Safety Plan 2016-2020 reflects a significant action oriented strategy to reduce safety issues on our roads.

List of Public Meetings (Item #3 JPC Guidelines Annual Report)

Item 3 in an Annual Report required by the JPC Guidelines is to list public meetings in the period. Each full JPC meeting was open to the public and the press were invited.

The Annual Meeting (Feb 27th 2017) is the first full Public meeting. Members of the public have been invited to submit questions or issues in advance.

Advertisements were placed in the local media and promoted on social media by Kerry County Council and An Garda Síochána inviting members of the public to attend and to submit questions or issues.

Presentations will also be streamed and shared online.

Meeting details (Item #4 JPC Guidelines Annual Report)

Item 4 in the Annual Report required by the JPC Guidelines is to list the meetings held in the period.
